13     Honey Bee Kind -- An Amazing Honeyed Meal for Four, Accompanied by a 'Swarm' of Fun Bee Facts

Donated by Susan Ledbetter

Come 'bee' dazzled with an incredible spread in which every item, food and drink both, is 'honeyed' in some shape, form or fashion; plus, you will 'bee' informed about the most amazing little creature that produces this delicious, nutritious and versatile medicine food -- the mythical honeybee, humanity's most ancient ally, who does so much for the survival and pleasures of humanity -- and 'bee' informed about all their hive products as well. These fascinating little creatures are a-buzz with surprising fun facts about their biological and genetic lives; their social structure; their five manufactured products which are not only delicious, but nutritious and medicinal, as well as multi-purposed in many ways; the fun and joy of being in relationship with them; plus their most important function of pollination that literally keeps us breathing and eating!!! So come to the home of Better Bee Goods, and state-wide blue-ribbon honey to sip some of life's sweet moments in a fun-filled time of food and wit of 'bee'-dazzling entertainment and 'wowing' education; and leave a-buzz yourself, satiated with food, drink, fun facts, amazement and a surprise bag of goodies to boot. If you don't know what you don't know about honey bees, you'll 'bee' most pleasantly surprised, in more ways than one!!! If you ever 'catch the buzz,' you'll be addicted, but only in a sweet and fine way; so come on out and catch that buzz!

15     Home-Baked Whole Wheat Bread at Unpredictable Intervals, Plus Surprises, Maybe

Donated by Peter Livant

It's the bread we eat at the Livant house day in and day out. It is 100% whole wheat, kind of dense, chewy. It's not glitzy, but we like it. The recipe is right out of the Tassajara Bread Book, so apparently Buddhists like it too. I make a batch of four loaves every 4 – 6 weeks, and I'll give you one of the four every time I make the bread. I think I can guarantee 8 deliveries over the course of a year, but chances are good you'll get more; twelve is not out of the question. Even snazzier bread could appear willy-nilly, as the spirit moves me.

---

15 Home-Baked Whole Wheat Bread at Unpredictable Intervals, Plus Surprises, Maybe

54 Macho Men Work Party

Donated by Peter Livant

Eight-And-a-Half Great Reasons to Bid On the Macho Men Work Party

1) You are insane. 2) Common sense is not your strong suit. 3) The wine tonight is messing with your head. (Pace yourself!) 4) OK! OK! You're sane, sensible, and sober, BUT... you have a weird kinky Thing for old guys leaning on shovels. 5) You enjoy cooking, and you look forward to making The Machos an exquisite gourmet feast at the end of their labors (we are construing the word "labors" quite loosely). 6) You had the Men of La Macho out to your house last year and you want them to come back and fix the stuff they screwed up then. 7) You believe in miracles. 8) You have a bet with a friend on how many donuts and how many gallons of coffee UU men can eat and drink in four hours and still have room for the aforementioned exquisite gourmet feast (see reason 5). 8.5) You are writing a dissertation on "Non-Migrant Non-Workers in the Modern American South: Psychosocial-Religious Roots of Laziness as an Art Form."

Pick a reason and bid, bid, bid!!!

Should you have the winning bid tonight, here are some things to know: a) We don't work in December (i.e. we don't even try to work in December). b) Allow 4 – 6 weeks to set up a date. Macho Men lead complex lives, a lot like stray (feral?) cats; it takes awhile to round us up. c) We work either 8 am – noon or 1 pm – 5 pm, typically on a Saturday. d) We supply the donuts. You supply the coffee and the exquisite gourmet feast. e) The exquisite gourmet feast is, technically, optional, but it is a charming tradition the continuation of which we highly encourage. f) You supply the required construction materials, and we all (you and us) collaborate on supplying the tools. We have lots of tools. It's part of being macho, right? g) All our work is guaranteed for 30 days or until we leave the job site, whichever comes first.
